PAY HIKE URGED. President Eisenhower in Washington receives from his commission on salaries a report declaring Congressmen should vote themselves a $12,500 pay raise to $27,500 a year. At left is Bernard G. Segal of Philadelphia, chairman of the commission. At right is James P. Walsh, of Cincinnati, a commission member. The report also recommended raising the pay of the chief justice to $40,000 a year and of associate justices to $39,000. The vice president and speaker of the House would get an additional $10,000 each.

Critically Injured

Girl, 18, Run Down By Hit-Skip Driver

Gloria Saunders, 18, of 328 Girard Ave., was critically injured last night when struck by a hit-skip driver. She was reported in "poor" condition in City Hospital this morning with head and leg injuries.

The accident occurred shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday as Gloria and a 16-year-old sister, Jenny, and two cousins, Shirley Ann Baker, 17, and Catherine Baker, 15, were walking north on Fountain St., just north of the Fountain Inn.

THE GIRLS WERE returning home from Yost's Restaurant. Neighbors said the girls told them they had walked off the road when they heard an automobile approaching them from the south and heading north.

But while Gloria was standing off the roadway, the automobile struck her, knocking her into the air, her companions said.

The car, an old model without taillights, sped on.

The girls' screams brought Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Kronk from their home nearby. When the Kronks arrived at the scene, they found Gloria lying at the side of the road, her head and shoulders on the paved portion.

Mrs. Kronk returned to her home from where she notified the Marion County sheriff's office and called an ambulance.

Gloria's companions described the hit-skip car as being "an old coupe."

THE SAUNDERS GIRLS had lived with their parents on Fountain St., until Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Saunders moved to Prospect. Since that time, Gloria has lived with a sister at the Girard Ave. address, and Jenny with her grandmother at 547 Fountain St. The Baker girls reside at 661 Fountain St.

Gloria sustained concussion, contusions and lacerations of the forehead, and abrasions of the legs. It was not known this morning if she had also sustained a fractured skull.

'Abduction' Charged

Ex-GI Trying To Return His Son to U.S. Detained

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard held on today to a 6-year-old U.S.-born boy while his ex-GI father tried to find a legal way to take him back to his home in Brooklyn.

The father, Harry Hillers, a 36-year-old house painter, and his son Jimmy were nabbed last night as they were about to board an airliner for New York. Hillers' estranged German wife accused him of abducting the child from her home in Stuttgart.

No Charge Filed

The boy and his father spent last night in a police station near the airport, but Scotland Yard emphasized no charges had been filed against Hillers and that their "only concern is to prevent the departure of the boy pending the receipt of information from German authorities."

Hillers so far has been unable to get custody of his son through court action in Germany.

Compromise On Site Saves Berlin Parley

Ministers Will Meet For One Week in East Sector, Two in West

BERLIN (AP)—Experts for the Big Four set to work today to plan security and housekeeping details of the Berlin foreign ministers conference. A compromise last night on sites for the session assured that the parley will open on schedule next Monday.

The American, British, French and Russian commandants of the divided city appointed deputies to meet late today to work out detailed arrangements for the conference on German unity and the Austrian peace treaty.

One Week in East Berlin
Orders from their home governments ended 10 days of wrangling over the conference site. The three Western military chiefs and Soviet Commandant Sergei Dengin agreed last night that the ministers will meet for one week — the second — in the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin, and for the first and third weeks in the building in the American sector formerly used by the Allied Control Council.

Thereafter, a communique said, "the place of meetings will depend upon the course of the conference."

The Russians at first had demanded that half the meetings, including the opening session, be held in East Berlin. The West sought at first to hold only one fourth of the meetings in the East.

Main Point Accomplished

"Let the Russians have a tiny triumph if that is what they regard it to be," one Allied spokesman said. "We believe that the main point is to get around the table on Germany and Austria and see if some international agreement can be found."

The agreement dissipated fears that the Russians would monkey-wrench the conference before it even started unless they could secure the prestige of launching it in their own back yard.

The "Little Four" deputies now will determine the makeup of the conference secretariat, arrange for communications and security, and decide on policies for handling the 1,000 or so men and women of the international press corps about to descend on the city.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault are due here Friday for last-minute strategy discussions. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is expected Saturday or Sunday.

Dulles Declares China Doesn't Belong in U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Red China fails to qualify for membership in the United Nations because it does not respect "the elemental decencies of international conduct."

Dulles spoke out in a prepared statement to a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which began considering possible ways of amending the United Nations charter.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the committee, agreed with Dulles in a statement that the U. N. had "shortcomings and weaknesses."

But Wiley said proposals to amend the U. N. charter, as called for under the charter itself, should be aimed at preserving and strengthening the international organization—not at undercutting it or wiping it out.

Dulles, suggesting some possible charter revisions the Senate might like to consider, said a "special organ" might be created in line with President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace proposal.

This U. N. agency, Dulles said, could "deal permanently with the problem of armaments which carries so hideous a threat to the hopes of the peoples expressed in the preamble to the charter."

Commissioners Discuss Voting Machine Request

Possibility of obtaining voting machines for Marion County, as requested Friday by the Board of Elections, was to be considered today by Marion County commissioners.

Commissioners said they had read a resolution asking for the machines submitted to them Friday, but had not had an opportunity to discuss it among themselves previous to today's meeting.

Election board officials recommended that 77 voting machines be purchased at an estimated cost of $111,650. Use of machines, they claim, would save the county $200,379 over a 20-year period.

Ike Bases Health Program On Private Insurance Help

Motorists Forget Rights of Pedestrians

Turning Cars Must Wait for Walkers At Intersections

An often-heard complaint of Marionites regarding traffic safety is that too many motorists are either ignorant of or just plain fail to observe the rights of pedestrians.

Ohio law provides that the operator of any motor vehicle shall yield the right of way to any person lawfully crossing the street within any crosswalk, marked or unmarked.

IT IS THIS particular rule which city police say is most flagrantly violated by drivers on Marion streets.

The 1 actually means that if a pedestrian is crossing a street and the traffic light is green for his direction of travel, he has the right-of-way over any right-or-left-turning motor traffic also controlled by the same green light.

Particularly in the downtown district, local drivers apparently pay little heed to this fact. Motorists making right or left turns have a habit of honking their horns at pedestrians, then barreling around the corner, often narrowly missing those not nimble-footed enough to dodge out of the way.

ALTHOUGH the city has been fortunate thus far this year with no deaths resulting from this practice, the fact exists that it may lead to serious injury or death for some pedestrian or group of pedestrians.

Any driver involved in such an accident would be subject to arrest for criminal violation of the law as well as a possible costly civil suit by the injured persons or their survivors.

In fact, in any accident involving injury to pedestrian lawfully crossing the street, city police charge the driver with failure to yield the right of way.

OTHER RULES regarding pedestrian rights are also included in Ohio law. One is that "whenever any vehicle, street car or trackless trolley is stopped at a marked crosswalk or at any unmarked crosswalk . . . to permit a pedestrian to cross . . . the operator of any other (such) vehicle . . . approaching from the rear shall not overtake or pass such stopped vehicle."

U.N. Proceeds With Plan for POW Releases

Neutral Nations Chief Gives Warning Move Would Violate Truce

PANMUNJON (AP)—Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya told the U. N. Command again today it will violate the Korean armistice if it frees anti-Communist prisoners before their fate is decided by Allied Red agreement or by a peace conference.

The Allies, however, went ahead with plans to free more than 22,000 Korean and Chinese anti-Red POWs as civilians by Saturday—a course the UNC says is required by the armistice terms.

Efforts to reopen preliminary talks for a peace conference got nowhere.

American and North Korean liaison secretaries deadlocked for the third time—apparently on the question of striking Red charges of perfidy from the record. They agreed to meet again Wednesday.

In New Delhi, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, U. N. Assembly president, said "merely releasing 22,000 unrepatriated prisoners" would not end the Korea deadlock.

She said in a speech to Indian leaders that the problem of Korea

Legislative Goal

Middle-of-the-Road Tag For GOP Is Sought by Ike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was said by close associates today to be prepared to press for legislation he believes will put a middle-of-the-road tag on the Republican party for the November elections.

Eisenhower has told Republican congressional leaders that while some compromises may be in order, he is prepared to turn on the heat to get major proposals enacted in this session.

A case in point apparently involves his recommendations for changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The President sent Congress a series of proposed amendments that set up a howl from two sides, with organized labor objecting to some and management to others.

Allies May Get Up to Billion

Ike To Ask Expanded Use Of Farm Surplus Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower soon will ask Congress for authority to use up to one billion dollars worth of surplus farm products to help strengthen the economies of friendly countries.

This plan was disclosed today by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in a statement before the Senate Agriculture Committee, outlining the administration's new farm program.

Now Exceeds 2½ Billion
The proposed use of government surpluses—which Benson said today now exceed 5½ billion dollars—would be in addition to 2½ billion worth of surpluses which would be "insulated" from regular commercial supplies for special uses. Such uses would be for disaster relief, the school lunch program and for stockpiling for national emergencies.

The "insulating" idea was advanced by the President a week ago in a special message to Congress outlining his farm program.

Benson told the Senate committee that President has authorized him to announce the plans for the expanded use of farm surpluses abroad, in advance of the chief executive's budget message which is scheduled to go before Congress Thursday. The secretary said this message would set forth the President's new proposal.

Details Not Specified
Details of how the overseas surplus program would be handled were not specified in Benson's statement.

He did say the billion dollars worth of surpluses would be used over a three year period to "complete our general program of economic and technical development" abroad.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said in advance of Benson's appearance he wanted to know "just who suggested President Eisenhower's farm program and why." Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the committee bellowed Benson's testimony as "an outlook for agriculture."

Benson said the plan for using the billion dollars worth of surpluses to help other countries would go into effect only if the administration's new farm program is adopted.

Italian Premier Forms Cabinet

Fanfani Still Facing Hurdle in Parliament

ROME (AP)—Aminore Fanfani, moderate leftist member of the middle-road Christian Democrat party, today handed President Luigi Einaudi the lineup of a new cabinet he hopes will end Italy's 13-day-old political crisis.

Einaudi immediately signed the decree appointing the new government.

But the 46-year-old Fanfani and his Cabinet still must win the approval of Italy's bitterly and almost evenly divided Parliament.

The new Premier will go before the 590-member Chamber of Deputies, in which his party's 262 seats are 34 short of a majority, on Jan. 26 to present his program.

Fanfani, former interior minister and the youngest man ever called to Republican Italy's premiership, is expected to win by a narrow margin in the subsequent vote of confidence.

He was asked to form a government after the resignation Jan. 5 of Giuseppe Pella, another Christian Democrat who had governed precariously for five months with Monarchist support.

Tito's Top Aide Ousted, Told To Alter Views

Vice President Fired After Party Objects To Series of Writings

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Yugoslav Communist party's Central Committee has expelled Vice President Milovan Djilas from its ranks after hearing President Marshal Tito denounce his top aide. Tito said Djilas attempted to "liquidate" the Red party in Yugoslavia and sought to adopt the capitalist system.

Immediately after the 100-member committee, meeting yesterday in extraordinary session, issued its unanimous decree firing him, Djilas resigned as chairman of the Yugoslav Parliament.

He also repented his actions, confessing that his attitude had been wrong. He denied that he opposed Tito and his policies and swore he still was a "true Marxist."

The committee gave Djilas a stern "final warning" to alter his views. This appeared to threaten his complete expulsion from the party.

It appeared likely also that he would be ousted from his government post as one of Tito's four vice presidents. The committee hearing, however, apparently dealt only with party matters.

Djilas' purge from the party leadership climaxed the most disruptive politico-social controversy among Yugoslavia's rulers since the war.

The storm burst after the 41-year-old partisan fighter wrote a series of articles in the party newspaper Borba proposing modifications in the Red setup in the nation.

Though the party committee confined itself mainly to Djilas' political views, the writings that brought down the Red wrath were his criticisms of the wives of other top Communists.

$25 Million Starting Fund Is Requested

Congress Also Asked To Okay 5-Year Plan On Care of Disabled

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed today the government bolster private insurance plans as a step toward bettering the health of all Americans.

In a special message to Congress Eisenhower asked for 25 million dollars to start a system of government re-insurance of private plans, to help take care extraordinary expenses beyond those now covered.

5-Year Plan for Disabled

The President also proposed a five-year plan for expansion of the program for rehabilitation of the disabled. Under it a total of 660,000 disabled persons would be returned "to places of full responsibility as actively working citizens."

Eisenhower's plan "rejecting the socialization of medicine," also called for (a) continuation of present public health service programs, (b) a new, simplified formula for grants-in-aid to the states for health purposes, and (c) a stepped up program of construction of medical care facilities.

The President told Congress the total private medical bill of the nation now exceeds nine billion dollars a year—an average of nearly $200 a family—and still is rising.

He said the emphasis in dealing with the problem must remain essentially on private care, but that the government can and must help.

Rights Must Be Preserved

"Freedom, consent, and individual responsibility are fundamental to our system," he said. "In the field of medical care, this means that the traditional relationship of the physician and his patient, and the right of the individual to elect freely the manner of his care in illness, must be preserved."

"In adhering to this principle, and rejecting the socialization of medicine, we can still confidently commit ourselves to certain national health goals."

"One such goal is that the means for achieving good health should be accessible to all, person's location, occupation, age, race, creed or financial status should not bar him from enjoying this access."

Today's special message was the fourth Eisenhower has sent to Congress to fill in the details of the broad administration program which he outlined in his Jan. 7 State of the Union report.

Existing Plans Praised

The President praised existing private hospitalization and medical care insurance plans, and said progress made in that field "indicates that these voluntary organizations can reach many more people and provide better and broader benefits."

Eisenhower said the government need not and should not go into the insurance business to furnish the protection which private and non-profit organizations now provide.

"But the government," the President added, "can and should work with them to study and devise better insurance protection to meet the public need."

"I recommend the establishment of a limited federal reinsurance service to encourage private and non-profit health insurance, organization to offer broader health protection to more families. This service would reinsure the special additional risks involved in such broader protection. It can be launched with a capital fund of 25 million dollars provided by the government, to be retired from re-insurance fees."

Most existing private plans cover only a specified number of days of treatment at a specified maximum cost. Presumably, more ben-

Red Cross Offering First Aid Course

Classes Slated To Begin Tuesday as Part of Adult Program

Every half-hour approximately 600 Americans are hurt in accidents — six of them are killed and 80 of them received permanent injuries.

Stating that many of these injuries could have been prevented or their effects lessened, the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross has announced that it will conduct first aid classes as part of the Marion Adult Education program.

Beginning Tuesday at 7 p.m., the course will be a basic one in standard first aid, consisting of 11 two-hour sessions. The class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday night at Harding High School.

A 12 hour advanced course will be offered after the completion of the standard course.

Walter L. Baker and Thomas E. Reed Jr. will instruct the classes. Anyone interested in signing up for either course should contact the Red Cross office at 2-1653.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO if some child in your family drank kerosene? Chances are you don't know, so to help you find out the Red Cross is offering first aid courses as part of the Marion Adult Education program. Soldiers in Korea Should Get More Mail, Bishop Says

DALLAS (AP)—Write cheerful letters to servicemen overseas, says Methodist Bishop William C. Martin.

And above all, write more often, the bishop told his audience at First Methodist Church here last night.

Martin, of Dallas, is president of the National Council of Churches. He returned Wednesday from almost a month in Korea and Japan.

"Mail call is a big event in a soldier's daily routine," he said. "Write cheerful letters, not the kind that disturb a man's mind about things he cannot control, nor the kind that cause him to feel that he is wasting his time."

Armed with 3-D aerial photo- graphs, delicate instruments, and a thorough knowledge of math, an expert can now prepare a detailed map showing every elevation, con- tour, and detail in an area—far more rapidly than by the method utilizing surveyors' ground mea- surements. Hitler used the aerial map-making technique successfully in preparing his "blitz" strategy to conquer neighboring countries.

Aerial photographs, analyzed by photogrammetrists, have been used in many other ways than just the military, however. The entire route followed by the Pennsylvania Turnpike was mapped by this method in just 145 days, compared with an estimated two-and-a-half years it would have taken if maps had been made from ground mea- surements.

BESIDES MAP-MAKING, Dr. Hallert sees many other applica- tions of 3-D photography in greatly diverse fields.

For instance, in medicine, the precise location of a brain tumor might be made in many cases by taking a 3-D X-ray photograph of the skull, with photogrammetric analysis pinpointing the tumor.

In the science of criminology, a photogrammetrist can take a 3-D photo of the scene of a crime and give complete measurements of every aspect. The Columbus Po- lice Department has recently ex- perimented with three-dimensional color photographs.

Photogrammetry is unsurpassed

Boy, 8, Knows How To Get Brother, 2, To Unfasten Door

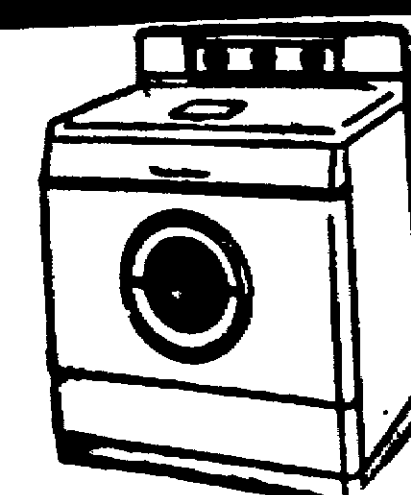

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (U)—How do you get a 2-year-old boy to open the bathroom door after he has locked himself in? Mrs. Donald E. Martin, wife of the county attorney, and five of their seven children pleaded with little Donald B. Martin for half an hour Saturday. "Huh," was Donald's only re- sponse as he splashed water on the floor. Finally 8-year-old Mike had an idea. "Oops," exclaimed Mike. "I spilled my jelly beans." The bathroom door flew open immediately.

Touchy Subject in Capital

Senators Embarrassed by Free Baths

By HAL BOYLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators in the days of the old Romans used to talk over problems of state in their marble baths.

It was a privilege of office and a luxury that set them apart from their constituents, perhaps leading the Roman man in the street to mutter enviously:

"Why should Sen. J. Quintus and his pals get steam-cleaned at the taxpayer's expense when I have to patronize a public bath with the riffraff?"

This may be the origin of the saying that "a politician is always in hot water."

Be that as it may, the senators of practically every country since Rome have managed to have their private baths where they can quietly discuss public issues while their tissues are being pummeled by attendants. Senators are a traditional breed, linked by a brotherhood of dignity and position that defies differences of time, language, and politics.

They still do as the Roman senators did, who set the pattern long ago. The U. S. Senate has its private marble baths, too. But it doesn't brag about it. Indeed the senators are downright bashful about mentioning this special plumbing privilege—and the fact they have their own swimming pool.

I discovered the existence of this marble-walled senatorial recreate when I asked how the elder statesmen managed to keep physically fit for their exhausting tasks. Talking over a hot desk all day can be pretty wearing.

"They go to the baths and relax," said a veteran correspondent here. When I expressed an interest in seeing them, he looked shocked and replied:

"Why, you couldn't get in there. That is one place where senators want to be alone, and they are very jealous of this privilege."

Well, that piqued me as a taxpayer. If Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower permit people to wander through the White House, why couldn't I at least take a peek at the senatorial baths, particularly if I promised to bring my own soap and not leave the hot water tap dripping?

Easier said than done. But I finally made it after going through four channels, three roadblocks and piercing two Iron Curtains of verbal objection. I pushed open a swinging door in the Senate office building that said "For Senators Only" and stood at last within the sanctum sanctorum.

Frankly, I was disappointed. The mysterious baths consisted only of some old-fashioned marble-walled bathing chambers, a small steam room, a tiny gym with a rowing machine and a mechanical horse.

Two unadorned senators were idly toweling themselves dry. I didn't recognize them. Senators without their spectacles on look pretty much alike.

I started to ask an attendant what kind of exercises the senators favored, but he was reluctant to talk. I couldn't even find out whether they had a special ladies' day for Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Later an old hand around the capital told me:

"The reason for all the secrecy is that the senators are touchy about letting the voters even know they have free baths. Actually, in recent years, most senators haven't bothered to use the place much. But a few old retired senators show up regularly to talk over the mistakes McKelvey and Woodrow Wilson made."

My reaction after seeing the baths was that a Roman senator would be ashamed of them, and that we are lucky to have as clean a bunch of senators as we have. I doubt if an aroused citizenry will ever march on Washington to destroy the baths.

But if I were a senator one of the first things I'd do is introduce a bill to tear out all that antique plumbing and put in a gym at least as good as the one you find in the average public high school.

Benson to the Wolves Again

One thing about the farm problem is an endless puzzle to non-farmers. It's a puzzle to farmers, too.

It is the status of self-appointed farm "leaders" who make a career of solving agriculture's problems. Since these geniuses of cornstalk politics have failed, according to their own admission, what right do they have to criticize new solutions which might have merit?

These geniuses are busy at the moment with their pet project of throwing Agriculture Secretary Benson to the wolves for proposing some new ideas. They have been at this for nearly a year, but Benson still is on the job.

He does not claim to be a genius in cornstalk politics. That isn't his reason for being in the Eisenhower cabinet. He is taking the grief that goes with the job because he believes agriculture can be stabilized without the nonsense of piling up vast surpluses of commodities.

He believes the political geniuses have reached the end of their rope.

The plan he has prepared and which President Eisenhower has recommended to Congress calls for opening up new markets abroad, where food and fiber is in demand. Benson would use up existing surpluses while discontinuing the absurd practice of stimulating the production of new surpluses by government purchases at a fixed price.

No one else has submitted a plan to do this. No one else has an original idea.

The puzzle remains. What right do the "experts" who have lousied up agriculture have to criticize a plan to undo the damage they have done?

If they have anything better to offer than Secretary Benson's plan, why don't they offer it?

Ohio Highway Bonds

There was only nominal opposition in the Ohio General Assembly's special session to Gov. Lausche's leadership on the highway bond question. Assemblyman returning home from the special session called to deal with the question were grateful because the governor had taken Ohio off a financial hook.

By recommending issuance of only a fraction of the bonds for which voters granted permission last election day, Gov. Lausche made it reasonably certain Ohio would not be caught short on future repayments if anything happened to its expectations of large additional income from the axle-distance tax.

In so doing, the governor's justification was this: That Ohio can spend just about so much money a year on roads no matter how much money might be made available and that an issue of $22,000,000 worth of bonds, instead of $500,000,000, which would have been permissible, will keep the spending rate inside the limit.

Gov. Lausche, himself, has advocated a pay-as-you-go approach to the rehabilitation of Ohio's over-age and behind-the-times highway system. He was defeated on this detail of his road program last November by a majority of voters who authorized the issuance of a half billion dollars' worth of bonds to speed the work.

When it dawned on Ohioans after election day that half a billion dollars' worth of bonds would absorb future highway income at a terrific rate and that highway revenue down to the last penny had been obligated to make the bonds saleable, misgivings set in.

Gov. Lausche eased them by reminding the General Assembly that its bond-issuing authority was permissive, not mandatory. In the event of a prospective shortage of income, it can agree to issue no bonds at all.

Free Enterprise—Now!

Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, which believes in free enterprise and the profit-and-loss system, is advising its clients and friends to act as if they believed in it too, instead of talking as if a post-boom adjustment were an economic disaster.

There needs to be more of this kind of talk by respected institutions with a large stake in the free-enterprise system.

"A business recession," points out the Guaranty Trust Co., "is a corrective process due to and necessitated by the excesses and maladjustments that have arisen under boom conditions. It reflects a need for adjustments, and its function is to effect such adjustments. . . . Dead wood is cut out. Inventories are reduced. Unsound projects are abandoned. Price and cost relationships are realigned. Operating inefficiencies in labor and management are eliminated or diminished. The quality of goods and services are improved. Inflated values are written down to realistic levels. Consumers' wants are re-examined. The lost art of salesmanship is rediscovered."

There is only one way to have a war boom forever. That is to have war. In the absence of war, the free enterprise system is challenged to prove its worth.

Now is the time for those who call themselves its friends to stand up and be confident, not to wring their hands in despair because no more American boys are buying a war boom with their lives.

Coalition Bloc Still Intact

By Jay C. Hayden

GOP, Southern Democrats Team Up in Congress

First reactions to President Eisenhower's politically crucial messages on labor and farm policy indicate they have at least done nothing to weaken the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats that has dominated Congress continuously for more than a decade.

Especially by their emphasis on state, as against federal, authority to deal with strikes, the President's proposals for revision of the Taft-Hartley Act made a great hit with the leaders from south of the Mason and Dixon Line.

Based on the uproar that attended the resignation of Martin Durkin of the secretaryship of labor, the Southerners along with all other essentially conservative elements were greatly fearful that President Eisenhower would go farther than heretofore in an effort to appease the union vote.

ACTUALLY, the President offered no more by way of weakening strike restrictions than Senator Taft passed through the Senate in 1949.

The most conspicuous new suggestion by Eisenhower—that a government-supervised election be required in connection with every strike call—is a definite stiffening of control over union leadership. The avowed purpose of the latter provision is to make sure that strikes are approved by the worker rank and file, as distinguished from the titular union officials.

Certainly the present Eisenhower proposals are distinctly less favorable to organized labor than the so-called "working paper," embodying 19 amendments, drawn up by Secretary Durkin and other presidential assistants last summer. Failure of the President to send that prospectus to Congress was named by Durkin as a reason for his retirement from the cabinet.

In the vote on the 1949 Taft amendments Southern Democrats divided, 13 for, 8 against, and one not voting but announced in favor of the bill. With the retirement since then of such liberals as Pepper and Graham, the Southern Democratic vote today probably would be even more strongly in favor of the Taft-Hartley law as it stands.

Southern senators, especially from the Cotton Belt, have been in the forefront of resistance to any change in the present 90-percent-of-parity support of farm prices. So far as concerns cotton that attitude probably will persist.

IT IS NOTABLE, however, that Sen. Russell, kingpin of the cotton bloc, grudgingly commended "some parts" of the Eisenhower program, and that so far there has been singularly calm comment by other Southerners, in marked contrast to their usual loud protests against any lessening of farm bounties.

One feature of the program that the Southerners undoubtedly approve is "insulation" of $2,500,000,000 worth of farm commodities, now in government storehouses, from the commercial market. The biggest single government holding in that line is cotton, of which Eisenhower said the carry-over stock next August, estimated at 9,600,000 bales, "will approximate a full year's domestic requirement."

"Our high rigid price-support program," the President said, "stimulates competition of foreign producers and reduces exports. During the twenties and early thirties our net exports of cotton generally exceeded domestic consumption. Current exports amount to hardly a third of our larger domestic requirement."

By treating each commodity separately, Eisenhower may have weakened the political power of cotton. For tobacco, the second biggest Southern export crop, for example, he would make permanent the existing 90-percent-of-parity price support.

This, he said, is because "tobacco farmers have demonstrated their ability to hold production in line with demand at the supported price without loss to the government."

THE TOBACCO farmers, prevalent mainly in the noncotton-producing states of Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Maryland, have nothing to gain and perhaps much to lose eventually by going to bat for 90-percent-of-parity support for all major farm products.

Eisenhower's final ace in the hole on the farm issue may be his veto power.

Under present law, 90-percent-of-parity price support for all commodities is scheduled to give way to a 75-to-90-percent-of-parity graduated system at the end of the current crop year. The present plan would continue that shift date as to some commodities but modify it as to others.

If Congress should fail to pass any farm bill the general change to 75-to-90-percent-of-parity for all commodities would take effect next January 1.

If Congress should pass a bill unsatisfactory to the President he can veto it, with the same effect of keeping the present laws on the books.

Judged by past voting on the subject there is scarcely any likelihood that the two-thirds vote in both houses, required to override a presidential veto, could be mustered. (North American Newspaper Alliance)

Anything New?

By TRUMAN TWILL

As the Frenchman and the washwoman, said, "The more changes the more it is the same."

A loyal reader has sent in a clipping of one of these columns written a long time ago. The clipping is brittle and yellow. Ten years would be an educated guess about its age.

The reader says this particular column was one of the best ever written about what happens after Christmas, when the lady of the house has grown sick of it all and wants to tidy up the premises. She might be right.

There's only one thing wrong. A few weeks ago the same column was written all over again. A few readers were kind enough to say they thought it was the best yet. Maybe they'll still be liking it the next time it's written because Christmas comes once a year. Spring comes once a year. Also fall, winter, summer, football, heat waves, summer clothes, gardening, spring lambs—and all the other trivia with which this column is concerned.

While each column is written independently of its predecessors (there aren't any clippings filed) the things have a tendency in the long run to turn into a collection of phonograph records played over and over again.

This calls for no apology because it happens universally. Christenings, weddings, funerals, wars, peace conferences, drives to raise the wherewithal for good works, disasters, earthquakes, floods, snowstorms, windstorms, heat waves, cold waves—when you've seen one, you've seen 'em all.

There's nothing new under the sun. Commencement speakers always have said the same things and will say them again next June. Politicians keep ringing the same old changes. So do preachers, parents, rabble rousers and philosophers.

The world moves on, no doubt about it, but moves in a curved line which brings it back to where it started from in the first place. So, according to Einstein, does the universe.

Right now the big thing for most of us is to be scared stiff of Russia. This is the throbbing threat of the hour. It was the throbbing threat of the hour a third of a century ago, too.

At other times there have been other perils. There was the "yellow peril," much publicized by William Randolph Hearst, for example. Something is always going wrong with the American dream of perfect security.

Does anyone want to lay a bet that if this country goes to war again there won't be a rush to store coffee in attics, cut the cuffs off men's pants and knit up a few zillion more sweaters, mufflers et al to keep the soldier boys warm—that women's skirts won't go above the knees and their necklines won't plunge to above zero?

The more it changes the more it is the same. Snow is white. Grass is green. Babies are cute and cuties cuter. The bride's mother cries and her father looks and feels like a fifth wheel.

Politics steal public money when they can get away with it. The younger generation goes to the dogs and the older generation goes down the drain. The price of progress is too high for the stick-in-the-muds, and the price of a new idea is a kick in the teeth.

And before the holidays are over, all of us feel like crawling in to a hole and pulling the hole in after us. Remember when you read that statement here the next time that you've been reading it here since Clara Bow was the Marilyn Monroe of her day.

An Altoona, Pa., newspaper has fun with the name of a former president, Hubert Wolfeschlegelsteinhausenbergerdorff. But Hubert is a perfectly good name—means "bright of spirit."

Double Check Income Tax Return

There is no telling, really, how carefully your tax return will be checked. That depends on how much you earn, what you do, where you live. But, counsels Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, this much is sure: The government is paying more attention to tax returns than ever before.

IT IS TIGHTENING enforcement of the tax laws. Having pepped up the machinery and given the taxpayer every possible assist, the tax collector feels he can now really enforce the regulations. If taxpayers get snagged, they have no one to blame but themselves.

Every single one of the 55,000,000 tax returns of individuals will be checked for arithmetic. Every return reporting individual income of more than $50,000 will be "audited," examined exhaustively to be sure everything is right and proper.

Every return reporting individual income between $10,000 and $50,000 will be "screened," given the twice-over treatment to spot doubtful or phony claims. Some of these will also be audited.

Also, one of every four returns from people making less than $10,000 will be screened and maybe audited.

The tax collector, getting tougher, will look at returns more closely. He will scan exemptions and deductions more critically and he plans more person-to-person dealings with taxpayers.

WHY THIS go-get-'em policy? First of all, the government needs the money. Every last penny in tax income counts, particularly now that taxes are lower.

And there is a bigger reason. The Republicans promised to "clean up the mess" in the government's tax-collection machinery. To make good, they are going after the thousands of taxpayers who through fraud or innocent error shortchange the tax collector. The delinquents include the one in every four taxpayers who files an erroneous return, those who file returns and then "forget" to pay up, and the unknown number of tax-liable persons who just don't bother to file returns.

The Eisenhower administration is taking three basic steps to make better taxpayers of all of us. It is accelerating the installation of modern office machinery to process returns and maintain records. It is providing more help for taxpayers. Forms and instructions are simpler. It should be easier to get assistance from local collectors. Also, every high-school junior and senior will be taught how to fill out a tax return. This will help them become better tax payers.

He will then check these names against his list of taxpayers in good standing. If a name is missing, the next moves are obvious: A query to the individual concerned, scrutiny of his financial records, and possible prosecution in the courts. Similarly, lists of business licenses issued, professional and occupational lists, etc., may be checked.

DOOR-TO-DOOR canvass will be intensified. The tax collector can knock on your door any time he chooses and ask to see proof that you are paid up. If you don't believe he can, then read what the law says. From time to time, the tax collector shall "cause his deputies to proceed through every part of his district and inquire after and concerning all persons therein who are liable to pay any internal revenue tax. . . ." (The law in its present form is 25 years old. The original dates back to 1870.)

When a canvass was made in New England, the agents collected $80,000 in two days. They received twice that sum from conscience-stricken citizens who read of the drive, and then hurried to get to the tax agent before he got to them. In the end, the government collected $35 for every dollar it spent in Missouri, canvassing agents brought in $75 for every dollar the drive cost.

We'll Have To Move Over

By MARK DANA

Along comes the Population Reference Bureau, a private statistical organization, in one of its periodic and indisputable generalizations, to tell us that the world's population is gaining at the rate of 70,000 persons a day, and during 1953 increased 25,000,000 over 1952.

With this as a speculative springboard, the bureau foresees that the world's present population of two and one-half billion will be up to seven billion by the year 2054, and any doubters may just hang around for another century and count.

Taking this computation under its belt, the bureau begins to wonder how those seven billion will be fed, and is unconvinced that farm and factory production of foodstuffs will be sufficient. In fact, there is a suspicion that some of the world's present two and a half billion do not get three square meals every day.

The bureau (we're still talking about its prognostications tangentially worries because it fears people will have to be eating synthetic foods shortly, perhaps just swallowing concentrated food tablets at meal time, and that of course is something gravely to contemplate.

Scientists have such pills all ready, but the demand is light despite the high cost of steaks. Companion scientists assure that present farm acreage can grow triple-sized food crops if properly nourished and worked, so maybe the pills can stay in the bottle.

Some field-corners of the earth are too packed with people to permit much farming at all. The acreage population density is 47 persons per square mile, ranging in Europe from 4 in Iceland to 831 in The Netherlands—and in the Western Hemisphere from 4 in Canada to 652 in Puerto Rico.

Imagine 1.3 Hollanders per acre, or 13 on 10 acres, trying to farm without dropping the whole food-raising idea in wrath! Also, imagine (just as sadly as does this bureau) being invited to dinner, then being handed a capsule. While imagining, try to wonder where the 70,000 new people every day are going to park their cars!

The Once Over

Otto The Bear Hunter

Moscow says there is a Russian, Otto Geiker, 126 years old, who has killed more than 200 bears, several tigers and many boars, wolves and elk, and is still moving 'em down. Things have reached a point, we understand, where the bears are now offering to surrender and sign confessions naming other bears as conspirators and admitting they deserve to be shot.

We interviewed Otto, in fancy. He admitted reluctantly that he killed a good many bears by throwing them off guard with gestures assuring them of peaceful intentions and denying hostile plans of any kind.

"Of course, I enjoy a certain advantage," said Otto. "It is always difficult to tell in a Russian bear hunt which is the bear and which is the hunter. A bear can never be certain. In most cases, despite the fact I am 126 years old, the bears think I am another bear."

"Was this always true?" we asked. "No," replied Otto the Terrible. "When I was just a kid of ninety or ninety-five my work was made easier by the fact that many a bear thought I was two bears."

"How did you happen to take up bear hunting?"

"I was around seventy-six years of age at the time and had retired from business. You know how a Russian feels about retiring in his boyhood. I wanted some light work, some milk hobby, to relieve my boredom. So I chose bear, wolf, boar and tiger hunting."

"Had you any experience in hunting big game?"

"No, and the big game had had no experience hunting me, so I figured it was equal."

"Do you remember your first bear?"

"Clearly, I was, as I said, in my seventh-sixth year, but still a little too fast for most bears. This first one, however, was a very big one and had the advantage. I distracted it by arguing that the meeting was a violation of procedural rules and that the bear was not properly on the agenda for that day.

This routine gets a bear pretty groggy. Did I tell you about the time I got two bears at the same time?"

"No."

"They jumped me in a little place called Opskovsk. Well, I got them to agree to transfer the meeting to Blodovitch. Worked another little trick, too. Got them to regard me as a neutral! The rest was easy."

"What about wolves?"

"Phooey! They are for decadent democracies. I slug whole wolf packs senseless with copies of the Pravda editorials."

"Do you expect to continue as a big-game slayer?"

"Of course. There have been proposals that I disarm, and I am willing. But I won't stand for those checks and inspections."

"You don't look one hundred and twenty six years old," we added.

"My boy, a Russian never looks that old. . . EXCEPT WHEN SUMMONED TO THE KREMLIN TO EXPLAIN SOMETHING THAT HAS MADE MALENKOV SUSPICIOUS!"

Opens Recruiting Drive

The 164th Fighter - Bomber Squadron located at the Municipal Airport at Mansfield is joining with the many Air National Guard units throughout the United States in launching an intensive recruiting campaign to continue through March 31.

THE MISSION of the 164th Fighter-Bomber Squadron, which includes several Marion men, is to defend critical areas of the United States against land, sea or airborne invasion; to assist in con-

Checks totaling $19,015 were received last week by members of the 164th for their duty during the months of October, November and December.

AIR GUARDSMEN are also required to attend fifteen days of active duty training each summer for which they receive full pay and allowances. The 164th has its permanent summer training site at Alpena, Mich.

Additional jet aircraft are scheduled to be received in the near future. The squadron is programmed to be equipped with F-86 Sabre Jets.

Denver Bus Driver
Treats Passengers
To Dinner, Show

DENVER (U)—Homeward-bound passengers on John P. Leslie's tramway bus looked up in surprise the other night when the big vehicle pulled to the curb in the middle of the block.

Leslie, 37, turned to face them, grinning.

"I want you all to go with me to dinner and a show," he said.

"I'm not kidding."

Ten of the passengers—nine of them women—accepted the invitation. The others were delivered to their doorsteps.

It was part of a "suppressed desires" contest conducted by the Denver Post. Leslie was one of 10 winners, saying he wanted most to take to dinner and a show his passengers, "who have treated me swell."

The nine women passengers? Well, Mrs. Leslie also went along for the party.

Ad Executives Told Business At Peak Level

CLEVELAND (AP)—Poncet Davis, wealthy Ohio and Alabama industrialist, goes on trial in Federal Court today on charges of evading payment of $738,249 in income taxes from 1945 through 1948.

The case is the largest involving income tax evasion in the history of the court here. Maximum penalty is 20 years in prison.

The 56-year-old Akron resident is president of the Robbins Tire & Rubber Co., a Tusculum, Ala., concern that manufactures inner tubes.

Davis is accused of diverting income from the corporation to his personal use and never reporting it in his tax returns.

His name came up in Washington in 1951 when a House committee was probing the Internal Revenue Department, Charles Oliphant, who resigned as chief counsel for the bureau while under fire, described Davis as "a dear friend" whom he had visited in Florida.

Oliphant testified he withdrew from the Davis tax case because of his friendship with the manufacturer.

To open a meeting of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Circle 3 at the Community House Thursday afternoon, remarks were given by the new chairman, Mrs. William Burley. Devotions were by Mrs. W. E. Stewart. A chapter of the new study book, "Within These Borders," by John R. Scottford, was presented by Mrs. W. P. Converse. Mrs. Blanche Hartpence reviewed an article from the church publication, Outreach, "Where the Doors Swing Open," by Emily Scholes Stafford. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ella Luckey and Mrs. Ralph Clutter.

Couple Here Asked To Appear On Network Television Show

A Marion man and wife who adopted two small undernourished children and nursed them back to health have been invited to tell their story over a nationwide TV program next Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Starks of 744 1/2 Fairfield St. were selected to appear on the NBC program "Welcome Traveler" in Chicago after they wrote to the program producers and told their story of the two children, a boy and girl.

The story began in Cincinnati about 16 months ago. Living there at the time, they learned of a family whose two children were suffering badly from malnutrition. They investigated and decided to adopt the children.

At that time the little girl, Maxine, was nearly 5 years old and weighed only 16 pounds. The boy, Tommy, was nearly 4 and weighed 19 pounds. "Neither of them could walk or talk and were so weak they got around by scooting about on the floor," Mrs. Starks said.

"Now both are not only walking, but also do 'good bit of running,' and both are able to talk. Maxine, still quite small for her age, nearly six, now tips the scales at 31 pounds and Tommy, still the largest, though younger, weighs 35 pounds.

A construction worker, Lee came to Marion to work last July as hostesses with Mrs. A. W. Kelt as chairman. Devotions will be by Mrs. Fred Ellery, and Mrs. George Griffiths will sing, accompanied by Mrs. H. T. Williams. The musicians are from First Presbyterian Church. Ushers will be Mrs. J. F. Neidhart and Mrs. C. L. Bartlett. Miss D. E. Emma Hawley will be in charge of registration, and Mrs. R. C. Alexander will be pianist. All church women are invited to attend, Mrs. Fred Dutt, president, said.

Officers Named For Crawford School Board

Ralph Worden Elected President; Polk Local District Is Transferred

BUCYRUS — The Crawford County Board of Education held its annual reorganization meeting here Saturday night, electing Ralph Worden of near North Robinson as president and passing a resolution transferring the Polk Local School District to the Gallion City School District.

Worden succeeds Park Stuckman of Mt. Zion. Lloyd Volk of Chaffield was elected vice president. County School Supt. S. K. Sollars acts as clerk.

The board unanimously approved the transfer of the Polk District, which includes Polk Township, areas of Sandusky and Jefferson Townships in Crawford County, North Bloomfield Township in Morrow County and Springfield Township in Richland County, to Gallion.

A new state law orders the dissolution of any district which does not maintain a school. Polk School District pupils have been attending Gallion city schools since 1925. There are 242 students from the district now enrolled in Gallion schools with the Polk board furnishing tuition funds.

The transfer was sought at the county board's meeting Jan. 2 but action was deferred on the matter until the reorganization meeting. The transfer which had the unanimous backing of the Polk District board, will become effective next May 31.

New members of the county board are Russel Coulter, Wheelersburg, and Volk. They succeed Robert Hoffis of Sulphur Springs and Albert Shafer, Chaffield. Neither sought re-election. Pearson L. Linn, Holmes-Liberty, is the fifth member of the board. He was re-elected to a four-year term last November.

Green Camp Youth Named Alternate To Naval Academy

A Green Camp youth, John Thomas Kennard, has been named an alternate for appointment to the United States Naval Academy, Eighth District Congressman Jackson E. Betts announced today.

Betts announced the designation of Theodore Lynn Bayless of Findlay as principal candidate for appointment to the academy to fill a vacancy which will be available after the June graduation.

Kennard was named second alternate while George Edwin Daniels of Edison was first alternate and Floyd Carlyne Hissong of Arcadia was third alternate.

Kennard, a graduate of Green Camp High School last June, is presently enrolled as a freshman in the college of arts and sciences at Ohio State University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Kennard.

At Green Camp High School, Kennard participated in basketball, baseball and band and was a member of the staff of the high school annual. Two younger brothers and a younger sister attend Green Camp school.

Betts said his nominations for appointment were based upon the results of an examination given by the Civil Service Commission at various Postoffices last July. The Naval Academy will give entrance examinations to both Bayless and the alternates in the spring.

One motorist was charged with hit-skip driving after an accident in Marion Saturday night. It was one of six weekend accidents.

Witnesses said the hit-skip car came up behind the parked car, started to swerve around it and sideswiped it on the left side. They obtained the license number of the hit-skip car and police traced it to Taylor.

In Municipal Court today, Taylor pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

The remaining five mishaps in the city were all minor. Cars driven by Kenneth H. Auble, 25, of 467 Claridon Ave. and Mildred B. Health efits might be allowed if the financing was more assured. The President called for a "progressive expansion" of the program for rehabilitation of the disabled.

He said his budget message, which will go to Congress Thursday, will reflect this objective.

The goal in the fiscal year starting July 1 is to restore 70,000 disabled persons to productive lives—an increase of 10,000 over the number rehabilitated in 1953, the President said. He said the goal for fiscal 1956 is 100,000 rehabilitated persons. In that year, he added, the states should begin to contribute their own funds to the cost of rehabilitating these additional persons.

Goal 200,000 Yearly

By the year ending June 30, 1949, the President said, "We should reach the goal of 200,000 rehabilitated persons each year," with the states gradually increasing their participation to the point of equal sharing with the federal government. To achieve that objective, "we must extend greater assistance to the states," Eisenhower said.

"With such a program the nation could during the next five years return a total of 660,000 of our disabled people to places of full responsibility as actively working citizens."

Calling for expanded construction of medical care facilities, the President urged:

1. Additional federal assistance in the construction of non-profit hospitals for care of the chronically ill.

2. Assistance in the building of non-profit medically supervised nursing and convalescent homes.

3. Aid in construction of non-profit rehabilitation facilities for the disabled.

4. Assistance in construction of non-profit diagnostic or treatment centers for patients who are not confined to bed.

Should Be Simplified

Calling for a new approach to the problem of supplying financial grants-in-aid to the states, the President said an existing "patchwork" of complex formulas and categorical grants should be simplified and improved.

He proposed a new formula permitting the states to use greater initiative and to take more responsibility in administration of the programs. Under it federal support would be forthcoming under these general yardsticks:

1. The states would be aided in inverse proportion to their financial capacity. That is, those least able to meet health expenses on their own would get the largest federal grants.

2. States also would be helped, in proportion to their population, to extend and improve the health and welfare services provided by the federal aid programs.

3. Part of the federal aid would be set aside for support of "unique projects of regional or national significance which give promise of new and better ways of serving the human needs of our citizens."

ADMITS CHECK CHARGE

LEBANON, Ohio (U) — James Welsh and Phil Baker, Hamilton detectives, said today Robert Eugene Warren, 27, of Dayton had admitted cashing approximately $840 worth of bad checks in Lebanon, Hamilton, Middletown and Springfield.

Farm

The program is sharply controversial. Critics have hit mainly at Eisenhower's plan for scrapping the present rigid government supports for basic field crops. He would replace them with a flexible system of supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Present law requires supports at 90 per cent of parity for basic crops. Parity is a standard said by law to be fair to farmers in relation to the cost of things they must buy.

Benson said the nation has reached a point where it must make "a tough, realistic appraisal of our overall farm program."

Stating he realized some members of Congress want to continue the present program of high, rigid supports, Benson said he wished to invite the lawmakers' attention to the big buildup of surpluses.

He said the present price support fund of $6,700,000,000 is running low and an additional $1,750,000,000 will be needed for this year.

Benson then asked the congressmen to consider these four questions:

"1. How far are we prepared to go in making additional billions of dollars available primarily for the support of a few selected farm commodities?

"2. What assurance is there that if the Commodity Credit Corp., borrowing authority (for price support purposes) is increased to 8 1/2 billions this year, further increases will not be required next year and the year after?

"3. How shall we reconcile demands for a balanced budget, lower taxes, less over-all government spending and a tight rein on the national debt limitation with heavy farm price support expenditures which give every indication of growing progressively greater?

"4. At what point will the 140 million Americans who do not live on farms rise up—as they did in the potato fiasco of a few years ago—and demand not revision but outright elimination of all direct aid to agriculture?"

The secretary said he did not have the answers to these questions, and added:

"But I firmly believe they must be answered by anyone who proposes continuation, without substantial change, of the present farm program."

The secretary said the administration's flexible support program, by lowering price props when surpluses threaten, should not involve a continued accumulation of large surpluses.

Under it, price props would vary, depending on the size of supplies. In times of scarcity, supports would be high to encourage production and in times of surpluses they would be low to encourage consumption and to discourage over-production.

The most controversial feature of the program is the scrapping of the present rigid government supports for basic field crops, other than tobacco, and their replacement by flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, a standard said by law to be fair to farmers in terms of prices prevailing for nonfarm goods. Present law requires 90 per cent support for basic crops.

Ellender View

Ellender, with reference to the proposal for flexible supports, said in an interview:

"To me the new proposals seem contradictory. While basic crops like cotton, wheat and corn are put under a sliding scale of supports from 75 to 90 per cent, tobacco and some others continue about the same."

Under Eisenhower's proposals, supports would be relatively high in times of scarcity, to encourage production, and low in times of surplus, to discourage it.

"It seems to me that there is no need to raise supports when there is a scarcity," Ellender said. "The market normally would eliminate need for any supports."

Ellender said he favors applying planning and marketing controls at a lower level of supply than at present "so we don't pile up a surplus to push down prices." Eisenhower cited the present government investment of some five billion dollars in surpluses as evidence that something is wrong with the present war-born system.

First Under Fire

Eisenhower's farm program was among the first of his specific recommendations to come under direct fire in the legislative process.

Another, his call for approval of U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence seaway, is under Senate debate going into a second week. Backers express confidence it will be approved when it comes to a vote.

Ray Evans, 66, Cartoonist for Dispatch, Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — Ray O. Evans Sr., 66, veteran editorial cartoonist for the Columbus Dispatch died unexpectedly today at his home.

He had been suffering from a heart ailment for several months.

Evans' career spanned 44 years, the last 32 of which were with the Columbus Dispatch as editorial cartoonist. His cartoons were widely reprinted by many newspapers throughout the United States.

He was born in Columbus Dec. 1, 1887, and educated in Columbus public schools. He was graduated by Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1910.

After his graduation he joined the Dispatch as an artist in the advertising department. He was a cartoonist with the Dayton News in 1912 and 1913, with the Baltimore American 1913-20 and with the Baltimore Sun and Baltimore News 1920-22.

He returned to the Dispatch in 1922 and was junior editorial cartoonist until 1935 when he became senior artist after the death of William P. "Billy" Ireland.

attacked and which the President appears to have included in his message with reluctance.

On the health program scheduled for submission to Congress today, some of the President's proposals are expected to draw fire from the American Medical Assn. and, from the other side of the fence, groups which want the government to install a compulsory medical insurance system.

Eisenhower's social security recommendations, which were warmly received by Congress, were apparently aimed in part at meeting complaints that his party has been reactionary.

The President is represented as having reached the conclusion that it isn't enough for him to propose. He is said to want the Eisenhower stamp put on the Republican record by congressional enactment of his major proposals.

Open Fight Possible

That may not be easy, since some elements of his party are not going to like being "liberalized" and will fight it openly. Some GOP lawmakers think Eisenhower has gone "New Deal," as they put it.

To meet expected resistance from these sources, the President is reported to have told his lieutenants he will use his White House forum to appeal directly to the country whenever he thinks this is necessary.

last November denied his request for immediate custody of the child, saying the whole case had to be settled by another German court. But it gave him permission to take his son out for three-hour visits, three times a week.

Mrs. Hillers told Stuttgart police her husband took the child for a walk Saturday but did not return.

The U. S. Army newspaper Stars and Stripes said it had received a letter purportedly from Hillers in which he wrote he planned to flee with the child because he felt the court case "will not end for quite some time and I cannot afford to stay here much longer."

"I feel," the letter continued, "that I can no longer go on as I have been doing for the past five months, eating very little, and sleeping in a cold room."

"I want my son to grow up in the country where he belongs, where he was born and where he will have the same opportunity as millions of other American citizens."

is a desperate one which must be reviewed by the General Assembly "in the context of new developments." Mrs. Pandit has called for the 60-Nation Assembly to reconvene Feb. 9 on the Korean question. Thimayya Monday sent what he called a "clarifying statement" to Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. Far East commander.

He said the Allies apparently misunderstood his decision to return unrepatriated prisoners now in Indian custody to their captors starting Wednesday.

Thimayya, chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC), told each side last week to be ready to take back the prisoners it captured. They include 14,300 Chinese and 7,700 Korean POWs captured by the Allies and 327 Koreans, 21 Americans and 1 Briton captured by the Communists. All have refused to go home.

Thimayya re-emphasized in his latest letter that he is returning the 22,400 "as prisoners" and that freeing them would violate the armistice.

The UNC has informed the Indians it is ready to accept the prisoners. An Indian spokesman said the Communists have not replied.

The spokesman said Thimayya was planning a "final report" on whether war prisoners would be returned on Jan. 20," as soon as the Reds answer. This touched off speculation that the Indians might change their decision, which they originally described as "the final say."

National Women Voters League Is Opposed to Bricker Proposal

The national board of the League of Women Voters is opposed to the Bricker amendment and has urged President Eisenhower to use his utmost influence to prevent its passage.

The Marion League of Women Voters has not taken a stand on the controversial proposal of Ohio Sen. John W. Bricker.

The national board's action came at the group's January board meeting. Mrs. John R. Lee, league president, informed President Eisenhower of the group's stand in a letter citing five reasons for opposition to the proposed amendment limiting treaty-making powers.

Reasons cited were:

- "1. The power of the national government to conduct foreign relations must be maintained as provided in the Constitution. The Bricker amendment would deprive the national government of its full power to carry out treaty obligations in important areas of national policy and would leave to the states the choice of implementation."

- "2. The constitutional system of checks and balances between the executive and legislative branches of the national government must be safeguarded. The Bricker amendment would alter the traditional concept of the balance of powers by removing functions from the executive and transferring them to the Congress. It is essential that the President retain his authority to fulfill his constitutional responsibility to act in times of national emergency as well as in the day to day conduct of foreign affairs."

- "3. The negotiation and ratification of treaties should not be made

Revival Enters Second Week As 1,500 Attend

Second week of the union Spiritual Victory Crusade opened Sunday night at Epworth Methodist Church and an audience of at least 1,500 to hear Rev. Charles F. Taylor preach his "cowboy sermon" on the subject "Brand 'Em to the Red." It was necessary for a part of the audience to sit in the choir left. At the close of the service nearly 60 listeners responded to the altar call.

The nightly services are being sponsored by the Marion County Ministerial Association. Musician of the campaign is Rev. Laurie Taylor. Rev. W. C. Eyster is the host pastor, and Rev. H. V. Falor is president of the Ministerial Association.

To begin his sermon, Rev. "Charlie" Taylor told his hearers,

"The cowboys claim that to brand a cow permanently you have to brand her to the 'red,' that is through the thick hide till the red flesh shows through. Otherwise, the cow s just singed, and the hair grows over the spot and you don't know whose cow she is."

"The trouble with too many of us is, we are just 'hair burnt' Christians," he continued, "who haven't been branded to the red with the mark of Christ. We go out into the world and the hair grows over the mark and in a few months or years, no one knows whether we ever did belong to Christ. We run around with Satan's crowd until the world figures we have his brand," the evangelist said.

"The brand marks of a Christian are loyalty to Christ, we glorify him in our bodies. We must have His spirit, for if we do not the Bible says, we are none of His, no matter how many churches we belong to," Taylor concluded.

Army, Air Force Enlist 13 Men Here

Seven enlistments in the Air Force and six in the Army were reported by Sgt. Howard Wheatcroft of the Marion recruiting station.

New Olds Models Will Go on Display

ADVANCED STYLING and important mechanical changes are featured in Oldsmobile's 1954 models which will go on display Wednesday at Marion's Oldsmobile dealer, Rankin Oldsmobiles, Inc., at 436 W. Center St.

The new models, "88", Super "88" and "98", are a full three inches lower than their predecessors without sacrificing ground clearance. They feature such sweeping changes as an all new body by Fisher, a new wide, wrap-around, panoramic windshield, new sweep-cut fender and door design and many other styling innovations.

The new "Rocket" engine is bigger—increased in horsepower from 165 to 185 in the Super "88" and "98" models, (170 in the "88" models) and up in compression ratio from 8 to 1 to 8.25 to 1. Engine displacement is increased from 303 to 324 cubic inches, and the entire car is engineered so that the increased power can be put to use in the medium and low speed ranges, in ordinary, every-day driving situations.

Many of the new styling features were inspired by the General Motors experimental dream cars, particularly the Oldsmobile Starfire. All models in the "88" and Super "88" series are not only three inches lower, but are two inches longer, and this gives the cars the new long, low-level silhouette. The panoramic windshield and sweep-cut door and fender treatment are outstanding styling features, and contribute much to Oldsmobile's new "sports car" look, even in the conventional two-door and four-door models. Fenders, front and rear, are higher—almost level with the hood in front and with the rear deck in back.

Among the other significant advancements is a new cowl ventilator, which extends the width of the hood and makes possible a compact, more efficient heater and defroster unit. New chrome treatment on the side, new bullet-shaped parking lights and an increase in total glass area are other prominent design and functional features.

Inside, the 1954 Oldsmobiles feature new fabrics, new colors, new combinations of leather and cloth. Even the instrument panel is redesigned.

In order to achieve the lower chassis, the Oldsmobile frame has been redesigned, the hydra-

Matic transmission has been rotated 22 degrees counter-clockwise for clearance and the rear suspension has been altered. The semi-elliptic leaf springs, formerly mounted diagonally, are now parallel and have been moved closer to the wheels.

To make Oldsmobile's line-up of power features complete, the 1954 models will offer four-way power seats as an optional feature. New Pedal-Ease power brakes, also optional, have been improved by providing an extra reserve for several power stops even when the engine is not running. Safety power steering, Oldsmobile air conditioning and the automatic headlight dimmer, Autronic-Eye, have all been improved for 1954 Oldsmobile models.

Oldsmobile will present eleven models in three series for 1954. The new Super "88" models will include a two-door and four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible. The "88" series will feature a new model this year—the Holiday hard top coupe—along with the two-door and four-door sedan. In the "98" series, which will be available in early February, are the four-door sedan, the DeLuxe Holiday coupe, the Holiday coupe, and Starfire, a special and ultra-glamorous convertible coupe.

Fire Damages Mar-O-Del Inn

Shed Destroyed; Loss Estimated at $1,000

Defective wiring was blamed for a fire early this morning which caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the Mar-O-Del Inn restaurant on Route 23 just south of the city limits.

The blaze apparently broke out sometime before 6:05 a.m. when the alarm was turned in by an unidentified passerby. Mark St. station firemen answered the alarm with the Marion Township fire truck and found the night watchman, Henry Ross, sleeping soundly in one part of the building when they arrived.

Fire Chief Owen A. Sifrit reported the fire started in some wiring in a lean-to building attached to the rear of the main restaurant building. The lean-to and its contents were destroyed and the rear wall and roof of the main building were badly damaged.

Damon Corwin, operator of the restaurant, told firemen the lean-to contained 125 gallons of root beer concentrate. He said the contents were covered by insurance. Owner of the building is John Andrews who firemen were unable to contact to determine whether or not there is insurance on the building.

Asked if he hadn't smelled smoke after he was roused out of his sleep by firemen, the watchman said he thought he had earlier in the morning, had gotten up and looked around and gone back to bed when he could find no fire. There was no smoke in the main part of the building when they arrived, firemen said.

Only other fire call over the weekend was to the residence of Robert Blankenship at 706 E. Center St. at 10:29 p.m. Sunday. Firemen said sparks from the chimney had set fire to the roof but that it was out when they arrived. Loss was estimated at $5. The call was answered by Central station firemen.

No loss or injury was reported in a run made to the residence of E. L. Andrews of 376 Park St. at 9:38 this morning.

According to the fire department, an oven there exploded as escaping gas from it was ignited when the stove was lighted. Firemen from the Central and Mark St. stations answered the call.

Marion in Third Place After Pair of Weekend Wins

Barons Rip Milwaukee 10-4 For Season's Offense Mark

The Marion Barons continued their drive for the top in the International Hockey League with a pair of wins in weekend action. Saturday night, the Marion team notched a 6-1 win at Fort Wayne and Sunday breezed to a 10-4 win over hapless Milwaukee at the Coliseum.

Gordie Veprava led the Barons attack Saturday night with his first three-goal hat trick of the season and Kenny Schultz repeated the trick yesterday before 2-314 fans at the Marion rink.

Yesterday's splurge against the last-place chiefs was the offensive high of the season for the Marion squad. The previous high was a 9-2 win over Grand Rapids here on Dec. 13.

As a result of action over the weekend the Barons now hold undisputed possession of third place in the IHL with 46 points. Toledo's Mercurys are in second just three points ahead of Marion while Cincinnati tops the circuit with 59 points. Troy, Johnstown and Grand Rapids are in a deadlock for fourth place with 42 points.

The Barons jumped away to a 4-0 lead in the game yesterday. Dutch Delmonte scored the first of his two goals after four minutes and 43 seconds had passed and before the first period ended. Wimpy Jones, Joe Ingolsby and Schultz also scored. Romie Besidowski potted a goal for the Chiefs with a minute and a half remaining in the period.

The pace slowed down in the second period as Marion hiked its lead to 5-1 when Murray Wilkie scored after taking a pass from Ingolsby at the 6:31 mark. Wilkie's shot was deflected past Goalie Bob Arnel when it struck the skate of Dick Albert.

While the Milwaukee back line had demonstrated several weaknesses during the game, both teams forgot about defense during the third period's eight goals were scored, five by the Barons and three by the visitors. Tony Poeta opened the fireworks after a minute and 38 seconds had passed. Roger Hayfield then made it 6-2 when he scored after 2:28. Delmonte pumped in another and Hal Jones scored to build the Marion lead to 8-2 before Schultz completed his hat trick effort with a pair of goals within a 47-second period. He scored his second after 11:37 of play and belted in the third at 12:24. Hal Tamminen scored for the Chiefs at the 13:58 mark and the Chiefs' final score came at the 14:24 mark by Besidowski.

Milwaukee's first goal in the opening period came on a freak shot by Besidowski from behind the net. Goalie Lou Crowdis had ward off an attack by the Chiefs' front line and Besidowski shot from behind the goal line. The disc hit Crowdis on the back of the leg and bounced into the net.

The Barons grabbed an early lead in the Indiana game Saturday night when Tiny Poeta took a pass from Schultz after 1:14 had passed to score. Steve Brklacich batted in the second goal after 6:43 and was assisted by Poeta.

Billy Watson put his Komet mates back into the game when he hit the nets at 9:24 on a combination pass from Skip Frizell and Bill Kastelic. Veprava potted the first of his three goals at the 17:52 mark and was assisted by Wimpy Jones and Delmonte.

Barons Boost Lead
In the second period, the pace fell off with the Barons hiking their lead to 4-1 on a goal by Veprava. He scored after taking a pass from Coach Ott Heller after 13:08 of play. The only penalty of the game was called in that period when Ted Leboda was sent to the box for two minutes on a holding count.

Delmonte batted in an insurance tally after three minutes of the final stanza and was assisted by Veprava and Wimpy Jones. Veprava's final tally came at 10:50. Delmonte assisted on that score. A crowd of 4,720 watched the game.

The Barons will see no home action until next Sunday when Louisville moves in. Their only game before that will be played Thursday night at Louisville.

Bevo Hikes Scoring Mark With 84-Point Production

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's college basketball teams have a 45-game schedule on tap this week, and the contests could cause a heavy turnover in the conference and statewide standings.

Heaviest interests, outside of Ohio State's road dates with Indiana and Michigan State, centers around next Saturday's Akron at Marietta, and Bluffton at Findlay.

Akron, after knocking Otterbein off the top rung of the Ohio Conference Saturday night 60-55 for the first Cardinal loss in 7 tries, gets a chance at the new loop leader, Marietta. The Pioneers have won their only 2 league games, and head the state standings with a 9-1 record. In the conference Otterbein is second with 6-1 and Akron third with 5-1.

Prior to its date with Akron, Marietta tangles with fifth-place Denison (3-1) tomorrow night, and the Big Red, on its home floor, could turn back the Pioneers.

The Bluffton-Findlay affair is for the Mid-Ohio loop leadership. Bluffton entertains Ohio Northern tomorrow night, and the Beavers are favored heavily over the Polar Bears, which should send Saturday's foes into the crucial event with 2-0 league records, the only unblemished ones in the circuit. Miami, leading the Mid-American with 5-1, is idle this week, giving Toledo (4-1) a chance to pull into a tie by defeating Kent State (1-5) at Toledo Saturday.

Bowling Green's 78-66 win last week knocked the Rockets out of first place.

Of the week's 45 contests, 20 are against out-of-state opponents. Last week the Ohioans won 13 and lost 11 in interstate play, giving the Bucks 83 victories, 78 losses and a scoring edge of 12,180 to 11,800 against foreign teams. On Ohio courts the home teams have won 39 while losing 28 to the out-of-staters, but on the road the Ohioans have lost 50 while winning 44.

Rio Grande and its tall and talented "Bevo" Francis were in the hotshots last week. In a twin bill with Alliance of Pennsylvania played at Erie, Pa., and Wellsville, Ohio, Friday and Saturday—the Redmen won by 107-77, and 133-70.

Bevo counted 61 and 84 points in the frays, boosting his 14-game total to 687 and his average above 49. No one in the country is close to him. Rio Grande is averaging 94 per game, with Bevo having outscored the rest of the hill country team by 687-63.

Part of the ice-pick, five inches long, had broken off in DeBoskey's back. One lung was punctured. Fellow students gave DeBoskey blood transfusions.

DETROIT Cagers Hurt in Attack; Night Ban Eyed
DETROIT (AP)—Night-time prep school football and basketball faced a possible ban at Detroit's public schools today as a result of teen-ager hoodlums in which a boy was stabbed and badly hurt.

School Supt. Arthur Dondineau called a meeting of school principals at which he said he would demand a ban.

Five boys were held by police. They were among 12 who were arrested after what police called a "mob attack" on three players following a basketball game Friday night.

Ross DeBoskey, 17, star center of the MacKenzie High team, was stabbed in the back with an ice pick. He and two teammates were attacked after their team had played a game with Central High.

Police said the five admitted they took part in the attack and said it was planned beforehand. They denied the actual stabbing, however.

DeBoskey's companions, Jacques Berlin and Jo Davidson, both 17, were treated for head injuries.

Trinity, Wesley Win in Church League Action

Trinity Baptist and Wesley Methodist won their second straight games of the current YMCA Church Basketball League Saturday night to share first place honors.

Trinity dumped Rural Salem 38-29 while Wesley ran wild over Epworth by a 62-37 count. Trinity which last week ran up a total of 61 points against Calvary had a rough night of it from the field, hitting only 16 attempts from the floor. Salem had even a rougher time connecting from the floor with a total of eight buckets. Trinity started fast, holding a 13-5 first quarter lead but it took two additional periods to match the first quarter output. Salem's ability to score only four points in the final quarter hurt its chances of getting back into the game. Bernar Martin lead Trinity with eight points while Price had nine for the losing Salem five.

Using two units of five each Wesley ran to an easy 62-37 win over Epworth to give the defending champions their second win of the first round. Wesley held Epworth to a single field goal by Dick Hendel in the first period and then eased to the victory. Seiter lead Wesley with 11 points while Howard Gilbert's 10 points was high for Epworth.

Calvary, led by Bud England and Chief Bender, routed the Church of the Brethren in the second game of the evening by a 57-41 score. Calvary better than doubled the score on the Brethren in the first period, holding an 18-7 lead after eight minutes, to set the pattern for the remainder of the game. England and Bender had 14 and 10 points respectively for Calvary while Robbie Miller carried the Brethren's scoring lead with a total of 15 points from his spot around the boards.

Tickets have been distributed to members of the Green Camp Lions Club for the Cleveland Brown Green Camp Elevator basketball game Saturday in the new school gymnasium.

The publicity department of the Browns has announced that Horace Gillom, Chuck Knoll, Warren Lahr, Ken Gergal, Lin Houston and Billy Reynolds in addition to Dante Lavelli, Bill Willis, Marion Motley, Darrell Brewster, Doug Atkins, Lou Groza and Tommy James may be seen in the lineup.

The Marion Industries and Green Camp K. P. team will play the preliminary game starting at 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds of the game will go to the Lions club to help promote its charitable work.

DETROIT Cagers Hurt in Attack; Night Ban Eyed
DETROIT (AP)—Night-time prep school football and basketball faced a possible ban at Detroit's public schools today as a result of teen-ager hoodlums in which a boy was stabbed and badly hurt.

School Supt. Arthur Dondineau called a meeting of school principals at which he said he would demand a ban.

Five boys were held by police. They were among 12 who were arrested after what police called a "mob attack" on three players following a basketball game Friday night.

Ross DeBoskey, 17, star center of the MacKenzie High team, was stabbed in the back with an ice pick. He and two teammates were attacked after their team had played a game with Central High.

Police said the five admitted they took part in the attack and said it was planned beforehand. They denied the actual stabbing, however.

DeBoskey's companions, Jacques Berlin and Jo Davidson, both 17, were treated for head injuries.

East Pulls Upset Brown Gains First Decision From Lions' Buddy Parker

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Paul Brown, with his first victory over a Buddy Parker piloted outfit in eight tries, thanks a bunch of fast, burly linemen.

For it was the defensive giants of the Eastern All-Stars who crashed through the favored Western division of the National Football League to win 20 yesterday in the Fourth Annual Pro-Bowl game.

The individual standout was 230-pound line backer Chuck Bednarik of the Philadelphia Eagles. His contributions included calling of defensive signals, recovery of a fumble that led to the second field goal by Cleveland's Lou Groza and a 24-yard touchdown charge with an intercepted Bobby Layne pass.

Commented Brown who has piloted the squad in all four of the post-season charity games. "We apparently wanted to win it a little more than they did. Our boys just played a little harder. Especially up front."

He discounted a suggestion that perhaps money had something to do with it—the winning squadmen each getting $700 to $500 for the losers.

Going into the game the West was a touchdown favorite so the win must be some balm for the coach whose Cleveland club has twice in a row for the NFL championship.

Along with Bednarik, huge Arnie Weinmeister of the New York Giants, Ernie Stautner of Pittsburgh, and Gene Brito of Washington were standout line performers in a 60-minute semi-final, while the winners.

One of the big questions for the trolman, will meet Gino Angello in 44,214 fans who watched under a one-fall preliminary at 8:30.

overcast skies was why Parker waited so long to use Quarterback Y. A. Title of the San Francisco 49ers.

Late in the third quarter the crowd set up a chant for Title and he master minded a 63-yard march highlighted by a 36-yard run by Hugh McElhenny and culminated by a 16-yard touchdown dash by Joe Perry, both also of San Francisco.

That made it 13-9, but Ray Renfro of Cleveland iced the nationally televised game for the contributions calling of East with a 25-yard touchdown defensive signals, recovery of a fumble that led to the second field goal by Cleveland's Lou Groza and a 24-yard touchdown charge with an intercepted Bobby Layne pass.

St. Mary in 64-24 Romp Over Holy Family Quintet

Irish Begin Preparations For Rugged Delphos Battle

By JOHN SHORT

Marion St. Mary cagers were working overtime today for their Tuesday night at the Coliseum with powerful Delphos St. John. The Irish warmed up for the task Saturday night with an easy 64-24 victory over Columbus Holy Family.

The Columbus school, fielding the weakest team seen here in many years, managed to keep five players on the court and that was about it. St. Mary went into a full-court press at the start of the game and before the Columbus cagers found what the game was all about the winners had grabbed an 18-0 lead. With three minutes and 23 seconds to go in the opening period, Holy Family netted its first point when Joe Pendergast scored from the foul line. Holy Family's next score came with two seconds left when Ernie Vicario hit on a desperation heave for the losers' first fielder. St. Mary held a 20-3 edge at the quarter's end. The starting five

Three Quintets Still Unbeaten In Court Action

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Kentucky, Duquesne, Western Kentucky and surprising Connecticut were the only major college basketball fives with unblemished records today and the immediate offing holds little for the first three to worry about.

Kentucky, rolling in high gear with 11 straight, takes on none-too-formidable Tennessee Saturday night, Western Kentucky, unbeaten in 16 games, figures to add a pair of victims, Tennessee Tech and Memphis, to its skein this week, and the Ducks can rest on their 15-0 record until Jan. 27 when they meet Georgetown.

Only the high-scoring Connecticut quintet (14-0) can look to the future with some foreboding. Its next game, on Feb. 3, is against Fordham, another Eastern power and the best of the New York City clubs.

Last weekend, Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 ranking team in the latest Associated Press poll, walloped Tulane 94-43 in a South-eastern Conference game.

Duquesne, No. 2, deftly handled one of its toughest assignments by defeating Niagara 61-53. Western Kentucky, ranked fifth, thrashed Eastern Kentucky, its arch rival, 122-78. Unranked Connecticut scored a convincing 106-81 win over Boston College.

Holy Cross and George Washington, ranked sixth and seventh respectively, both suffered their first setbacks Friday. The Crusaders fell victim to Notre Dame's collapsing defenses and dropped a lopsided 83-61 decision. George Washington bowed to Maryland 68-61.

Otherwise, the first 10 teams justified their high ratings. Indiana's third-ranked Hoosiers continued to dominate play in the Big Ten Conference by whipping Wisconsin 90-74. The Indiana five will attempt to make their league record 6-0 tonight against Ohio State.

In the usual possession-minded struggle between the schools the Oklahoma Aggies, No. 4, edged Tulsa 46-40.

Holy Cross got back on the victory road Saturday, trouncing Belmont-Abbey of North Carolina 103-63. Oklahoma City, No. 8 with an 11-1 record, easily downed Murray State of Kentucky 72-43.

Rounding out the performances of the top 10 were Duke's 69-61 decision over McCary Eagles, an independent team, and Minnesota's 59-55 verdict over Iowa.

In the second-10, 17th-ranked Dayton bowed to La Salle 82-58. Wichita (15-1) moved to the top of the Missouri Valley standings with a 91-61 victory over Detroit. The Kansas Jayhawks won their third Big Seven game, defeating Kansas State 65-62, and Louisiana State, led by Bob Pettit's 37 points, downed Tennessee 75-62.

Colorado A&M, No. 18, topped New Mexico 67-60, and Illinois, a notch lower, whipped Ohio State 82-78 in a Big Ten fray.

Bevo Francis and Rio Grande came in for their share of the weekend scoring spotlight. The much-heralded center dropped in 61 points as the Ohio school drubbed Alliance (Pa.) 107-77 Friday and then followed it with an 84-point performance the following night in Rio Grande's 133-70 triumph against the same college.

Cornell remained on top of the Eastern league by defeating Dartmouth 79-58 for a 5-0 record in conference play.

In the Southeastern Conference, Alabama beat Auburn 70-58, Mississippi whipped Georgia Tech 80-71 and Vanderbilt conquered Mississippi State 79-69.

North Carolina held its lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 78-66 verdict over Virginia.

Harrison Tops Field in Crosby Golf Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Easy going E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, veteran trouper on golf's tournament trail, was $2,000 richer today and the champion of the 1954 Bing Crosby 54-holer.

"This is a swell way to start the new year," Harrison drawled.

The old Arkansas traveler of the fairways fronted his fellow professionals in the windup of the famed spar-with-par event with a three day total of 210. Harrison posted 71-68-71 respectively on three courses, Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach.

A crowd estimated at close to 20,000 saw the final round. Harrison led by two shots at the end of 36 holes. He 3-putted the 18th green for a 7, two over par yesterday but edged out Jimmy Demaret by a single stroke.

Demaret, veteran from Houston, shot 73-68-70 for 211 and $1,250.

Third place and $1,000 went to Tommi Bolt of Houston with 71-70-71-212.

The pro-amateur competition ended in a four-team tie with best ball totals of 193.

The were Marvin (Bud) Ward, Great Falls, pro, and Harvie Ward, 1952 British amateur champion now of San Francisco; Walter Burkmore, Detroit, and Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, manager of the San Diego Coast League baseball club; Art Wall Jr., Honesdale, Pa., and amateur champion Gene Little of San Diego, and Doug Ford, Yonkers, N. Y., playing with Monty Moncrief of Fort Worth, Tex.

Olson, Rindone Collide in Top Ring Attraction

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobo Olson plans to take two fights before he defends his middleweight title against Kid Gavilan April 2 in Chicago.

The champion, idle since Oct. 21, when he won the title by battering Randy Turpin, boxes Joe Rindone of Roxbury, Mass., Saturday at San Francisco on the Saturday night fight (ABC-TV).

Although Olson will be a heavy favorite to win, Rindone holds 1953 victories over Pierre Langlois and Joey de John. In fact, he sent De John into retirement with a second round TKO Nov. 23 at Syracuse, N. Y.

Olson will take another fight in March, no opponent named yet.

Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., and Rocky Castillo of Chicago, a pair of youngsters anxious to move up into the first 10 of the welter class, top the Friday show at Madison Square Garden (TV-NBC, radio-ABC).

Since losing to Chico Vejar and Danny Giovannelli early in '53, Martinez has won five in a row, including a decision over Vejar Nov. 20.

Casillo stopped Giovannelli and lost to Joey Klein in his two New York appearances. His record is impressive, winning 26 of 32 with 17 knockouts.

Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn's "house of upsets," has a good welter match tonight between Carmine Fiore of Brooklyn and Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles on TV (Du Mont) in some sections.

Fiore, one of the best left hookers in the business, is on a five-fight win streak. Among his victims were Giovannelli, Danny (Bang Bang) Womber and Phil Kim.

Herman, who fought a draw with lightweight king Jimmy Carter, knocked out Brian Kelly in the parkway in his last local appearance.

During a good will tour of the Orient, the New York baseball Giants traveled 25,000 miles by air.

Elm Valley Edges Cardington Quintet

ASHLEY—Cardington outscored Elm Valley in each of the three final periods Saturday night, but the Aces' 14-3 spree in the first quarter was enough to clinch them a 52-49 decision.

The win gives Elm Valley a 6-5 season record and an even 1-1 slate in the Mid-Ohio Conference.

John Humes set the winning pace, tossing in nine field goals and three free throws for a total of 21 points. Ed Vanaudsale with 13 was the only other Elm Valley cager to break into double-column scoring.

Sellers' 17 points was the top effort for the losers.

Elm Valley is at home twice this week, entertaining Scioto Valley Tuesday and Richmond Saturday.

"I am 45 years old, and I have lost 50 lbs. with Renel in a period of 11 weeks," writes R. S. Jones, 165 E. Deshler Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "I feel better, and don't tire as easily, nor do I have that bloated feeling anymore. I am careful in eating, but eat about the same as I did before. I never had to go hungry to lose weight, and my thanks go to Renel."

Thousands have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. Obtain liquid Renel at your drug store, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic with the very first bottle, just return it to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment reducing with Renel.
